Facilities at Byrd Street Station Being Improved in Many Respects.

BURKEVILLE GETS NEW DEPOT

Increase in Wages and Expenses Causes Deficit in Scaboard Report.

The Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac and the Atlantic Coast Line Railways are preparing for the exposition rush that will be about the Byrd Street ot. In order to have more room for handling of baggage, the express ofthe handling of baggage, the express office in the depot is being moved to a new building erected for the purpose on the Seventh Street side of the Byrd Street yards. This building will be reached from the depot proper by a vitrified brick walkway. The large room heretofore occuplei by the express company will be added to the baggage-room and used for incoming baggage, while the old room will be used altogether for outgoing baggage. This will just double the facilities for the quick handling of trunks and other baggage.

The Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railway is increasing its freight trackage at the Byrd Street depot for the special accommodation of downtown shippers who want to unload cars close at home, and quickly. This company's freight depots are on Broad Street, but many downtown patrons are greatly accommodated by being allowed to unload cars at Byrd Street. To give them all the advantages possible, the limited trackage there is being enlarged. Sidings that will hold six or eight cars for quick unloading were being finished up yesterday.

The long-promised passenger depot at Burkeville is about to materialize. The Southern Rallway has closed the contract with builders for its erection, and it is understood that work will be commenced at an early date, so that the depot may be completed by midsummer or the first of September. While the Southern made the contract for the erection of the building, it is to be a union passenger depot, to be used by both the Southern and the Norfolk and Western. It will be about 150 yards east of where the present passenger depot stands, and will be up-to-date in all respects.

The Seaboard Air Line financial report

The Scaboard Air Line financial report for the month of February shows a de-ticit, after paying fixed charges, of $53,332, against a surplus of $108,347 for the same month of last year. This differ-ence is accounted for by the increased wages mail and the location. wages paid and the increased expense generally in handling the business.

IN NEW OFFICES.

Business of South Atlantic Life

Steadily Increasing.
The South-Atlantic Life Insurance Company has moved its offices to the ninth floor of the Mutual Building, where it occupies a commodious suite of rooms.

The increasing business of the company made necessary larger quarters and additional clerical force. The amount of business secured during 1907 has thus far been five times the tmount secured during the corresponding period of 1906.

The new agency connections of the ing period of 1906.

The new agency connections of the company are proving productive. The company has been licensed in Georgia and will son be licensed in Alabama and Mississippi. In every section, representative and responsible insurance men, with records behind them, are undertaking the future work of the concern. The outlook is favorable in every section of the South-Atlantic's every section of the South-Atlantic's ery section of the South-Atlantic's ritory for a high record during 1907. ich is proving the company's banner year.

The company's monthly bulletin gives interesting figures, showing among other things that the management expenses during 1906 amounted to only 27 per cent. of its income. This, it is claimed, is a lower ratio than that of any other Southern company or of any other company organized since 1900, the year the South-Atlantic commenced business.

If You Are Sick

It is because some of the organs of the body are not doing their work well. There is a lack of that nervous energy that gives them motion. Consequently you are weak, worn-out, nervous, irritable, cannot sleep; have headache, indigestion, etc. because there is not sufficient nerve force to keep the organs active and allow them to perform their natural functions. Dr. Miles' Nervine restores health because it restores health because it restores

RICHMONDER GETS BALTIMORE JOB

Thomas G. Boggs, Born in This City, Has Done Hustling in the West.

Mr. Thomas C. Boggs, formerly of Richmond, but of late years living in the Northwest, has been made secretary of the Merchants' and Manufacturers Association, of Baltimore, and a large number of people of that city are displeased with the selection, claiming that the place should have gone to a Baltimorean who knows every nook and corner of the Monumental City and is familiar with all its needs.

The Bultimore American tells how Mr. Boggs was landed in the office, which seems to be a good one, and I must be said that his own merit put him there.

must be said that his own merit put him there.

Mr. Boggs was born in Richmond on May 8, 1861, the day that the battle of Drury's Bluft was fought, and in which light his father, as a surgeon in the Confederate Army, took part. He was educated at Lehigh University, of South Bethlehem!, Pa., and when twenty-one years of age went into the newspaper business, founding the Daily, of Huntsville, Ala.

For a number of years he continued in the newspaper business, and finally moved to Memphils, where he became night editor of the old Memphils Appeal. He organized the newspaper campaign that brought about the formation of the Young Men's Business League of Memphis, of which he was the first secretary.

In 1895 Mr. Boggs became the pro-

NORFOLK IGNORES CITY OF RICHMOND

In Advertising Exposition a Map of Virginia is Printed Showing All Large Cities Except the "Big City."

BY WALTER EDWARD HARRIS.
WASHINGTON, D. C., April 11.—A Virginian in Washington to-day, called attention to a matter which he insists indicates a spirit of jealosy of Richmond on the part of Norfolk which is to be deplored at this particular time, when all Virginia is supposed to be united in helping the Jamestown Exposition to a successful climateric. One of the Wishinston papers printed yesterday a doublesuccessful climacteric. One of the Washington papers printed yesterday a double-page advertisement of the exposition, showing how all transportation lines of the country could be readily used in reaching the exposition. Naturally, Norfolk was on the map in conspicuous letters. Petersburg and Lynchburg were shown; so were Roanoke and East Radford, and Hamlet, N. C., and Winston-Salem.

Richmond was not named on the map or in accompanying reading matter. The large circle, showing the location of Richmond as the southern terminus of the Washington-Southern, through which all rail passengers from the North would have to pass, was shown, but the spot was left nameless. The man who called attacked this matter is not from Richmond. have to pass, was shown, but the spot was left nameless. The man who called attention to this matter is not from Richmond or Norfolk. "Do not use my name," he said. "I am a Virginian, and I hate to see such business. I go to Norfolk and Richmond both about every three weeks, and I never observed in either city anything like jealousy of the other.

Dichmond Ways A head

Richmond Way Ahead. Richmond Way Ahead.

"To tell the truth, speaking inderendently, I cannot see why Norfolk should be jealous of Richmond, or how she could be. The two cities are not in the same class, from a business standpoint. Richmond is so fal ahead of Norfolk in every way, in point of capital invested, men employed, manufactured products, wholesale and retail trade—in fact, in every business sense practically, Richmond is far and sense practically, Richmond is far and away in front of Norfolk. For in-stance, Richmond's manufactured prostance, Richmond's manufactured products, according to the Census Burcau, are nearly nine times as great in point of value as those of Norfolk, not including the output of the Lecomotive Works and other big enterprises in Norfolk county. I should say the value of the wholesale trade of Richmond and Norfolk show up in all out the same proportion.

"But I did not drop in to brag on cither of the Virginia cities," the gentleman concluded. "Both of them are mine. 1 only regret to see mani-fested the spirit shown by the Norfolk people who published that map."
It is pointed out in behalf of Norfolk that the omission of the name o Richmond on the map may have bee purely accidental, an oversight not in-tended to indicate the spirit which the Virginian quoted above thought he saw manifested.

"Artificial" Whiskey.

Rectifiers of whiskey, saloon hen, distillers, and those who love to take an occasional nip, will be interested in the report that the Department of Justice has deedled that blended whiskey shall be labeled "artificial" whiskey shall be labeled "artificial" whiskey. When the construction of the pure-food law on this point was undertaken by Dr. Wiley, chief chemist of the Department of Agriculture, he decided that blended goods should be so labeled. Secretary Wilson, after hearing both the straight whiskey and the blended whiskey people state their cases, held that blends need not be specially labeled, but passed the matter up to the President. Mr. Rooseter up to the President. Mr. Roosevelt, seeing that the whole matter simply involved the construction of a statute, called upon Attorney-General Bonaparte for an opinion. After long Gelay the opinion has been sent to the White House, and will probably be given out to-morrow.

It is impossible to learn positively the nature of the decision, but, as stated, it is believed that it holds that blended goods will have to be labeled "artificial."

It is believed the decision if of this er up to the President. Mr. Roose

"arthein!"

It is believed the decision, if of this character, will prove a hard blow to blenders, as many people who drink blended whiskey do not know that it contains anything but whiskey, whereas in much of it, prime juice to color it, burnt sugar, high whes, neutral spirits and ether ingredients form constituent parts when the rectifier is through with it. A Kentuckian, who is an attache of the Bureau of internal Revenue, said to-day that much blended whiskey was just as pure and, according to his way of thinking, far more palutable than straight whiskey. But much of it is unspeakably bad.

master at the captured town of Trujillo, Honduras, arrived here last night on the steamer Bellze, from Belize, British Honduras.

Just as the steamer left Belize four days ago, a lotter was handed Gallardo, stating that General Lee Christmas, the American army officer in the service of Honduras, had been cut to pieces by Nicaraguan soldiers. The letter gave no details of the fight in which Christmas was killed. Information was contained in the letter that there was no hope for the Bonilla government and he was doomed to death if he did not get out of the country. News was brought here by passengers on the steamer that President Bonilla was not at Amapala, but was in hidding in Salvador. This report is said to be authentic.

Gallardo was accompanied by his secretary, Roman Gonzales, and they affected their escape from Trujillo two days before the place was captured by the Nicaraguans. They succeeded in carrying away $14,000 of the government's money, which was placed in sate keeping at Belize. Honduras, arrived here last night on

It is to be presumed, therefore, that the negotiations now on must be based on that figure, or in the neighborhood of it.

It is yet a secret as to who are the parties negotiating for the property but the report is that if the sale shall be made, Richmond money will be paid for the lot, and there is a further rumor, as stated in The Times-Distret hy exterday, that a skyseraper will go up on it if the deal goes through. 15 BURNED ALIVE IN COACH FORT WILLIAM, ONT., April 11.—The worst wreck in the history of the Canadian Pacific Railway occurred yesterday near Chapleau, 300 miles east of here. Fifteen persons are missing, and are believed to have been burned to death in the ceaches. The wreck was caused by a broken rail, which ditched the train, the two tourist cars rolling down an embankment into a small lake below. Passengers fought their way through the sengers fought their way through the flames, and a number of people in the coaches were pulled out, badly burned, but still alive.
